However, the decree retained the right for organizations to determine the number of employees to support the functioning of the organization during the specified period.

Our recommendations in connection with this decree:

- to monitor the deadlines for the payment of salaries, taxes and other mandatory payments carefully; better is to proceed these payments before the start of the specified period;
- to analyze and check the working schedule of employees at your Russian branches/subsidiaries during the newly specified non-working period;
- to request in advance information about the working schedule of your Russian business partners on those days.
